Nous Les Ambitieuses! is an association founded in March 2020. We are an international network of women from civil society, supported by committed citizens and experts around the world.

We have the ambition To raise awareness among as many people as possible about social issues and to take action through positive initiatives.

To fight for equal opportunities and share the vision of young people on the challenges of the future.

Let us have the ambition to succeed together!

Our two major cultural projects

Vivantes

To combat violence against women and children, we have created a theatrical work written and directed by Elie Chouraqui, based on real testimonies from women. The play is produced by Alexandra Fechner and performed by renowned actresses and actors, in the presence of the "Vivantes." We raise awareness, highlight solutions and local associations, and drive meaningful change!

Mission jeunesse

Our global competition is held under the high patronage of the French National Commission for UNESCO and supported by H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco. It is a powerful platform to connect with young people around the world, raise awareness about societal and environmental challenges, and amplify their voices. Our ambition: to gather and showcase their vision and aspirations for the world!
